GOVERNOR'S STAFF ORDERS UNIFORMS

Colonels Go Predecessors One Better and Add Special Military Evening Dress.

Governor Henry C. Stuart had his first meeting with his staff yesterday at a luncheon given at the Commonwealth Club by Julien H. Hill, chief of staff, to the Governor and his aides-de camp. Seventeen of the newly created colonels and three officers of the Governor's military detail were present. Colonel Jo Lane Stern, assistant inspector-general of the Virginia Volunteers, was the only outsider invited. His help was desired by the new aldes in the selection of uni-

It was a strictly business gathering without oratory. The only rhetorical outbursts allowed were the proposal of the toast to the Governor by Colonel Hill, the tonst to the staff by Governor Stuart, and the short address on regalla by Colonel Stern.

Of the Governor's staff were pres-ent the following colonels: Julien H. Hill, chief of staff: John Landstreet, Henry Lee Valentine, Warren P. Tay-lor, James J. Pollard, John R. Paschall, all of Richmond; Robert L. Parrish, of Covington; Parke P. Deane, of Windsor; John W. Williams, of Pearls-Windsor; John W. Williams, of Pearls-burg; William King, of Lynchburg; Thomas F. Goode, of Boydton; Harden Hairston, of Martinsville; John E. Pinner, of Suffolk; Ashton W. Gray, of Petersburg; R. Kent Spiller, of Roanoke; W. H. Langlorne, of Esmont, and R. L. Beale, of Bowling Green. From the Governor's adjunct military staff were present: Colonel E. E. Goodwyn, Em-poria; Captain H. Norton Mason, Richmond, and Captain W. W. LaPrade, South Richmond.

Order Three Uniforms.

The colonels went their predecessors one better in the line of gold lace and uniforms, by placing orders yesterday for three separate and distinct military costumes. The staff is to be pre-pared for all State occasions, no matter what the hour or the circumstance. To the customary dress, and full dress uniforms of a coloney of cavai. which has heretofore been worn by the members of the Governor's staff, was added yesterday a special evening dress uniform modeled after the even-ing dress uniform of the United States y. This uniform, made of very blue cloth is built exactly like dark, blue cloth is built exactly like the civillan dress suit, but is ornamented with heavy gold epaulettes, and is worn with a white waistcont, which is adorned with gold buttons. The trousers are of plain, dark blue. This uniform is designed to be worn at public receptions in the Executive Man-

J. CAMPBELL WHITE.

Under the leadership of J. Campbell White, the Laymen's Missionary Movement will hold a united training conference here for three days, beginning on Friday afternoon with a devotional in service in the Y. M. C. A., with Rev. W. J. Young, D. D., as the leader. The annual laymen's dinner will follow the service at 6:30 o'clock at the Richmond Hotel.

Sessions of the conference will be held in Centenary Methodist Church. The program is as follows:

uniform is designed to be worn at public receptions in the Executive Mansion and to State functions at night.

The staff has not determined upon the first occasion for the donning of the uniforms. The staff is expecting to have its costumes within a few weeks, and it is certain that opportunity will be given to display them shortly thereafter.
